Maximising Your Earnings While in Practice

Have you ever noticed that a good billiard player is always thinking ahead when taking their current shot?

No matter where you are at in your professional career, there is no greater advantage than getting the right advice now to set yourself up for the future.

Presented by Adam McCann, Chris Waples and Matt Stouppos from Barton's, this wealth and tax management workshop will cover off on the key themes you need to be thinking about to achieve your financial goals and objectives.

Topics covered include:

- Ensuring you are operating under an effective business structure.
- The importance of flexibility when structuring your debts and the difference between good and bad debt.
- Tips and traps associated with property investment. Is it the right investment vehicle for you?
- Risk Protection, providing for your family and protecting your most valuable asset.
- The ever-changing superannuation landscape. What do the changes mean for you and how do you take advantage of the opportunities available to build wealth, within superannuation?
